WC Golf Tournament to Sponsor Youth Missions

The WC Open Golf Tournament, which raises money to support WC Students' summer mission trips, is back again this April. It will offer an exciting opportunity to financially support our student missionaries while enjoying a great spring afternoon at the Grapevine Golf Course. Past tournaments have raised over thousands of dollars and have helped to send hundreds of students to places like Conway, Arkansas; Tulsa, Oklahoma; St. Louis, Missouri; New Orleans, Louisiana; and more. This year, our middle and high school students will return to Conway, Arkansas to help rebuild and revitalize spaces in the community while sharing the love of Jesus Christ with those in a variety of need. Every year, leaders hear testimonies of transformed lives as a result of our young people giving up a week of their summer vacation to be the hands and feet of Christ. How great is it that the WC Open helps "tee it up"?

This year, the WC Open will be played at Grapevine Golf Course on Sunday, April 28. A filling lunch (included with registration) will be available, and the driving range will open at noon and close at 1:45 p.m. The shotgun start will be at 2 p.m. This will allow people plenty of time to arrive after going to church that morning – and it may even be enough time get a few warmup shots in, too.

The event is open to any and all golfers (both men and women), regardless of skill level. In addition to raising

FWSO Presents Storybook: Cinderella

White's Chapel is honored to host the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra as they partner with APEX to present a new twist to the traditional story. This Cinderella is told through the talents of a variety of composers, which, when combined, deliver the classic tale of girl-meets-boy-with-help-of-fairy-godmother.

This is not your grandmother's Cinderella.

Introducing the story by overture will be composer Rossini, with "La Cenerentola Overture. Aquarium," by Saint Saens from Carnival of the Animals will open the tale, followed by the entrance of "Mother Ginger" (The Nutcracker) by Tchaikovsky. Time becomes an important element with Haydn's "Symphony No. 101 Movement II (The Clock)." Tchaikovsky returns with "Waltz" from Eugene Onegin, leading the listener into "Night on Bald Mountain" by Mussorgsky. Tchaikovsky is featured for the third time with "Pas de Deux from Nutcracker" Suite No. 2. Smetana closes the story with "Polka" from Bartered Bride Three Dances.

The music is paired with fairytale visuals and a narrator.

Featured conductor Taichi Fukumura is a rising Japanese-American conductor acclaimed for his dynamic stage

HOLY WEEK

The Easter story is why we are here, and the story is commemorated throughout the entire Holy Week at White's Chapel. Remembering Palm Sunday, observing Maundy Thursday, and joyfully celebrating the Resurrection was reflected in many faces throughout the week.

WC Students Takeover The Foundry

Our middle and high school students are taking over the 5:30 p.m. service on Saturday, April 6. During this first-ever student-run weekend service, the young team will usher people in, lead worship, preach the sermon, pray, serve communion, offer the benediction, and run cameras, lights and tech.

"This will be the first student takeover we have done," shared WC Students minister and staff member Bella Briseno. "The idea came from our all-student sunrise service last Easter... We also want to give our students more responsibilities. We want to give our students every opportunity to lead their peers and to integrate within the main congregation, and this service allows them to do both."

While the structure will be similar to other Saturday night services, the team will include talented and passionate leaders from WC Students. The worship team will consist of Reagan Sparks, Peer Forman, Mason Wilkie, Vivi Parker, Will Walters, Max Lydick, and Sadie Caywood.

Basic Food Staple Provided Through April Offering

For years, White's Chapel has dedicated at least one communion offering per year for the purpose of buying milk for the food pantry of the Grapevine Relief and Community Exchange program (GRACE).

This year is no exception; there has perhaps never been a greater need. With food prices experiencing higher costs, more and more

Reception Scheduled April 13 for World Renowned Artist Jorge Cocco

A reception will be hosted on April 13 in the White's Chapel Art Gallery for Argentinean artist Jorge Cocco Santángelo, whose work is currently featured there. The exhibit opened in January.

Churches of many denominations across the world have showcased the works of Cocco. White's Chapel is now one of those honored congregations.

"Mr. Cocco's art is the perfect blend of a post cubist style and Christian themed art," said Brenda Wyatt. "His work has been a staple of the Museum of Biblical Art in Dallas for several years. We feel blessed to share these beautiful works with the White's Chapel community. "

Cocco has mastered diverse art techniques such as painting, sculpture, lithograph, etching, and ceramics. Painting is his preferred medium. He is also skilled in washi zokei, a Japanese technique to create art with handmade paper. In

"We don't typically get to see the students on Wednesday nights because they have their own space," shared WC worship leader Grace Zeller. "So this is a cool opportunity to get to come see them lead worship and how they do it, and it's authentic to them... They're going to be singing a few songs that we all know, and then they are going to sing some that they are going to introduce to us. It's also a communion Saturday. So, the kids will be leading us in communion, and that's really special."

"It's such a cool thing that White's Chapel is allowing the youth to be able to lead the service," Reagan Sparks shared. "I think that this opportunity is a great chance to see if ministry is something that you are interested in doing, and it's just a great chance to be able to share my faith and love for the Lord with those around me and in the church."

Charles Hinkel and Madeleine Brock, two high school juniors, will give the sermon. It will focus on searching for God during difficult situations and looking through a new lens to see Him more clearly. Both student leaders are excited to share their faith with the congregation.

"This opportunity means a lot to me because it's one of my first times where I really get to share in-depth the effects the gospel has had on me these past months, and it's so exciting to do something so big not just for WC Students but for the whole church as well," Charlie Hinkel shared.

"Being able to share the wonder of God with everyone here is so important to me because White's Chapel has provided such an amazing community for me during every phase of my walk with Christ," Madeleine Brock said.

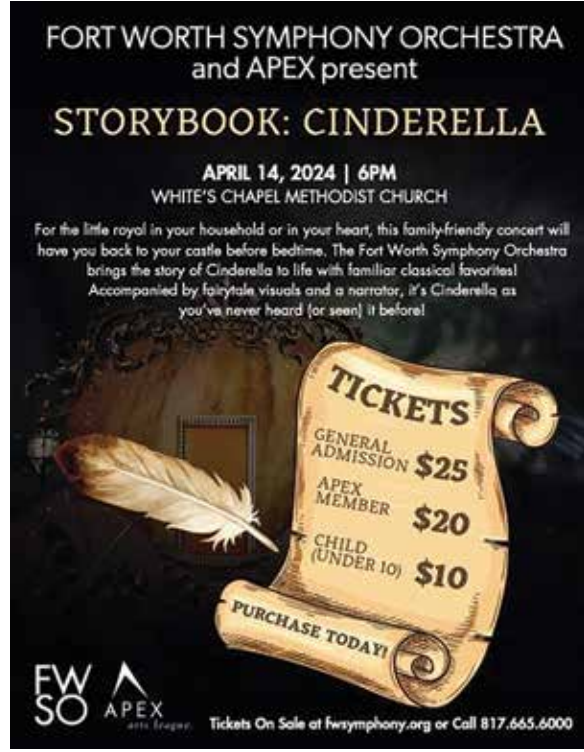

Rev. Sam Robbins, the usual preaching pastor for the Saturday night service, believes this will be a special service for both the students involved and the people in attendance.

"It was opportunities like this that helped plant a seed in me," shared Robbins. "It was the church telling me that I could do ministry too, that it didn't have to just be the pastors. I think God shows up in powerful ways when we let the next generation serve... We can find encouragement, inspiration, and joy in connecting with our young people and helping to encourage them in ministry."

Even though it will be offered by teenagers, the service has been planned to inspire and encourage people of all ages – and the students are eager to share their faith and talents with those in attendance.

"It's a really special chance to show the church and our community what the next generation has to offer the world," shared Vivi Parker. "I think teenagers are sometimes underestimated when it comes to making a difference, but getting to have an opportunity like this gives us a chance to prove ourselves."

Any and all are welcome to attend the 5:30 p.m. service on Saturday, April 6 to support our young ministry leaders. It is sure to be a powerful night of worship and community!

presence and musical finesse. Currently serving as the Assistant Conductor of the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra appointed by Music Director Robert Spano, Fukumura is the Second Prize Winner of The Mahler Competition 2023 with the Bamberg Symphony and a three-time recipient of the Solti Foundation U.S. Career Assistance Award in 2021, 2022, and 2023.

Fukumura was recently named Music Director Finalist of the Illinois Symphony Orchestra and is engaged to guest conduct the ISO on two programs in the 23/24 season. Other recent highlights include international guest conducting debut with the Orquesta de Cámara de Bellas Artes in Mexico City and guest assisting the Houston Symphony and the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra. He was also invited by the Berlin Philharmonic as one of 10 assistant conductor candidates for Kirill Petrenko and the Siemens Conductors Scholarship. Active as both conductor and assistant, Fukumura has worked with esteemed artists such as Edo de Waart, Juraj Valčuha, and Dame Jane Glover, as well as Thomas Hampson, Yefim Bronfman, Yo-Yo Ma, and Gil Shaham.

money for student missions, past golfers (and student volunteers) have spoken about meeting new people and enjoying the fellowship at the event. So, anyone looking to find a bit of community is encouraged to attend. For folks who also enjoy a little competition, there will be some prizes awarded as well.

"It's also fun because it allows our kids to get around people who they might not necessarily cross paths with, because our students will volunteer on the day of the tournament and they try to get sponsorships for the tournament as well," shared WC Students Co-Director Floyd Joseph. "They get to be around these adults, while they are [at the golf tournament], whose kids are all grown or whose kids are young – and they get to meet these kids and be around these students... so that's kind of cool that people can interact with others in our church who you wouldn't normally run into. So, I really like that part of it."

If you would like to play in the tournament, please register online. The cost to play is $150 per golfer, and lunch is included. If you already have a foursome in mind, teams can also register for $600. Participants can also sign up with two or three other people; leaders will then fill the remaining team spots with other participants. For those who are not already part of a team, individuals can register as a single golfer and leaders will sort each person into a team. If you do not plan to play but would still like to offer support, every donation to the cause helps! There are also still a few sponsor spots available. Current supporters include: Taco Casa (Title Sponsor), Janson Luter Architects, Reliant

Air Conditioning, The Vet Gal and Guys Mobile Veterinarian, Maykus Homes & Neighborhoods, First Financial Bank, WillowTree Custom Homes, and The Elizabeth Sackrle Group.

To those who have already donated, purchased a sponsorship, or signed up for the WC Open, we can't say 'thank you' enough! If you have any questions about playing in the upcoming tournament or becoming a sponsor, please visit wc-open.com.

Thank you for helping us support our student missionaries as they prepare to serve the community of Conway, Arkansas this summer. Leaders truly believe opportunities like this will encourage students in their walk with the Lord and offer much-needed support to the families served.

"For some of these kids, they may either be struggling with their relationship with the Lord and mission trip is where they kind of solidify that... or some of them don't know what they think about God and this really makes them feel like they can ask questions or be around people where they can ask faith questions – because they trust them, because they spent a week hammering nails together," Joseph explained. "So, that kind of stuff makes for really sweet community when we come out of mission trip, both middle and high school, but it's also a chance for them to get outside of themselves and see what God is doing in other places... and see how they can be lights to people who don't have a lot of hope. We can come in, and just by doing small little projects, we can help show more than just these little projects, but we can show them Jesus. It's a cool experience to be a part of mission trip."

the last few years, Cocco has been dedicated to paint in a new artistic style he created and calls sacrocubism, which portrays sacred and religious events in a style of painting with features of the post-cubist art movement.

Born in 1936, the artist is self-taught with international recognition, having his original works displayed in museums and art galleries in his native Argentina, as well as France, Japan, Mexico, Spain, Uruguay, and the United States. He has also been featured in United Kingdom's Royal Mail special edition of Christmas stamps in 2021, having been commissioned to create a series of stamps by Queen Elizabeth.

In addition to churches, his work has been featured in museums, government buildings, and universities. Cocco was born in Concepción del Uruguay, in the Entre Ríos province of Argentina. He was attracted to art from his earliest memories. His mother said that as a young child, he would sleep with a pencil in his hand and by morning his bedding would be covered with pencil markings.

Jorge Cocco won his first citywide art award at the age of 9. In his early 20s he had gained State level prizes and recognition. He continued his art career in Buenos Aires, and in 1976, he moved to Spain. Despite being a newcomer to Spain, Cocco rapidly integrated in the art community with exhibits in Ibiza, Valencia, and Bilbao, among other cities. Soon, museums started acquiring original Cocco's for their own collections. While sojourning in his artistic path, Cocco continued learning and experimenting, traveling through Europe where he would spend countless hours observing the old masterpieces at the most important museums.

In 1983, he moved to Mexico where he was able to learn more about and be in close contact with the cultures of Ancient America which played an influential role in his art. While in Puebla, Mexico, Cocco was a professor and head of the art department at the Universidad de las Américas. He moved back to Argentina in 1991, where he started art schools, taught at different institutions and wrote several articles and textbooks about art.

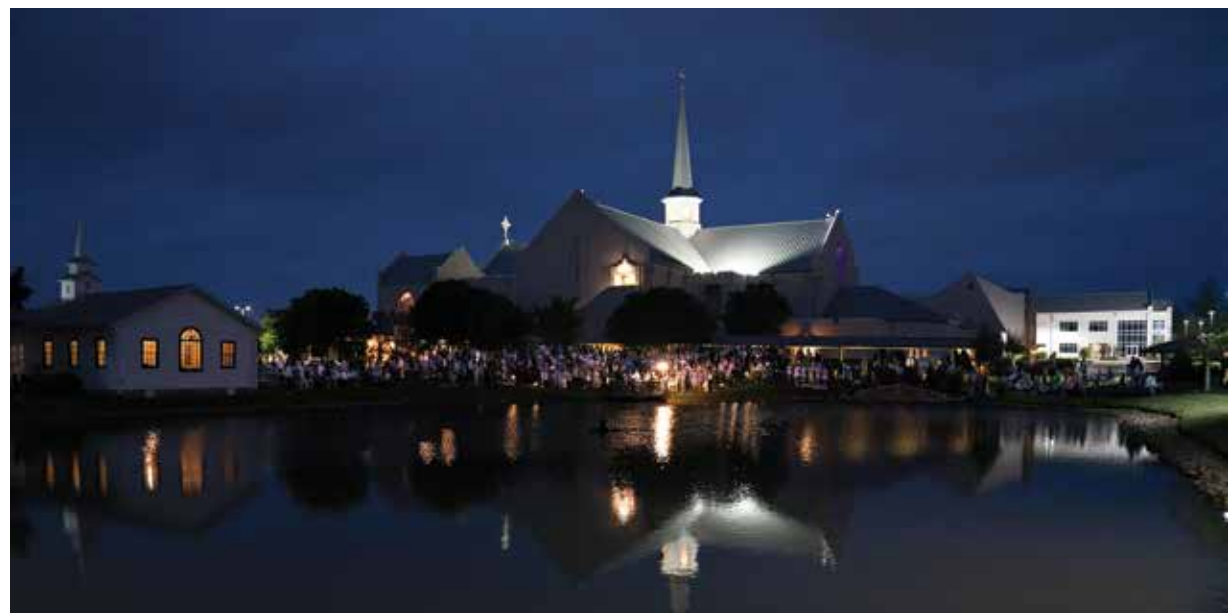

Cocco has continued creating new art and exploring new frontiers of expression throughout his long career.

"I think this is a terrific show and has been very well received as he has a large following," said Wyatt.

The gallery is located on the southwest side of the Sanctuary entrance. The exhibit will be featured through May.

WC Theater 2 - "The Sound of Music: Youth Edition" May 2 & 3 | 7 p.m. The Foundry | Free

Join us for this timeless story and the dazzling score. The final collaboration between Rodgers & Hammerstein was destined to become the world's most beloved musical. Featuring a trove of cherished songs, including "Climb Ev'ry Mountain," "My Favorite Things," "Do-Re-Mi," "Sixteen Going on Seventeen" and the title number, "The Sound of Music" won the hearts of audiences worldwide, earning five Tony Awards and five Oscars. The inspirational story, based on the memoir of Maria Augusta Trapp, follows an ebullient postulate who serves as governess to the seven children of the imperious Captain von Trapp, bringing music and joy to the household. But as the forces of Nazism take hold of Austria, Maria and the entire von Trapp family must make a moral decision.

people are applying for assistance. As a reminder, last year, a fire temporarily closed the donation station. Damages were assessed at $75,000, affecting portable buildings, a shipping/storage container, and bins at the donation center.

The organization, which provides services and more to local families in need, worked for two months to get back on their feet. While everything is back to normal, they remain haunted at what was lost.

Organized in 1987 as a response to the growing need for emergency assistance services in far northeast Tarrant County, GRACE demonstrates compassion for those less fortunate by providing assistance to individuals and families in crisis and guidance toward self-sufficiency. Local churches responded to community needs with a plan for distributing available resources through Grapevine's Ministerial Alliance.

GRACE continues to be a centralized, coordinated effort of churches, businesses and individuals donating food, clothing, monetary donations, and even professional services to Grapevine, Colleyville, and Southlake residents, as well as homeless and transient families in need. Programs have grown to include low cost medical services, transitional housing, and general emergency assistance—such as food, clothing, furniture, financial assistance, information and referrals.

While many other agencies donate various diverse food items, White's Chapel has been tasked with a specific basic food need. Sunday's communion offering will be dedicated once again to providing milk for the community organization. All the money received in this offering will go toward this very needed food staple.
